

PJ2 Proposal

I'll still work on the World Cup stuff. And the structural representation of the list of all of the records would be a list which made up by matches arrangement—all the team names, the time and an id as metadata schema to tag each record. This list would be keyed to the individual records, which I plan to put every single TEAM per file. The structural representation of each TEAM itself will include id, team name, all the matches it will attend, match number, stage, time, location, and some other metadata.
